- Update from Prof. Sandy Thomas on the working group outputs from the Science Council.
- Presentations were given on Food and You 2 Wave 1 results, and key messages from the climate change and consumer behaviour expert workshop. Key findings from both were discussed.
- The secretariat are exploring how best to utilise the website and will circulate a paper to this effect.

Minutes and papers from the 7th ACSS meeting are on the website.

Recent activity:

- The first meeting of the Kitchen Life working group has been held as part of the wider Advisory group for the project to review the literature review recently conducted. Following the meeting it was agreed that Basis would review the research approach to reflect some of the suggestions made and risk assessment at the FSA would be assessed so the research can better suit its needs. Further involvement for the group is planned in an ad hoc capacity to help with the ethics process.
  - A pilot study was completed, and results were analysed.
  - PIA and consent forms were all confirmed.
  - Phase 1 recruitment is underway, with Domestic recruitment complete.
  - Filming for Domestic participants has concluded.
- The aim of the ACSS working group on climate change and consumer behaviour is to map emerging and potential consumer behaviour trends onto the FSA's objectives in order to inform FSA policy in the coming years. A workshop was held mid-May to support that aim by:
  - fast-tracking understanding of the current thinking and research in this area,

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• facilitating deliberation and focus of the ACSS working group, increasing potential for strategic impact</li> <li>• enabling the working group to identify and network with the research community in this area.</li> </ul> The climate change workshop report aims to be published on the 1st November. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Secretariat conducting the SAC appraisal exercise.</li> </ul> The next open meeting of the ACSS is 26th January 2022.
